Family is very important to us! During this unprecedented time, we've spent the last few weeks ensuring we have strong communication with our extended family. Becca and Bailee are used to seeing their aunts, uncles, grandparents and great-grandmas. We visit with family through phone and video calls. Sometimes grandparents take us on farm tours to see different animals during video calls. Aunt Jesi is stationed at an air force base overseas, so we sent a care package with artwork, treats and face masks made by grandma. The girls' favorite thing to do is make crafts to send to family members. This past week Becca and Bailee made footprint butterflies to mail their grandparents and footprint bunnies for their great grandmothers. They wanted everyone to see how much they've grown!
